National Cadet Corps - Atria University

The National Cadet Corps wing (NCC) at Atria University (AU) is proudly affiliated to the 3 Karnataka Battalion NCC, Bangalore Group 'A', Karnataka and Goa Directorate. Established with a mission to instill discipline, leadership, and patriotism, the NCC unit at Atria University continues to inspire young minds to become responsible citizens and future leaders.

The NCC wing of Atria University conducts rigorous training programs, including drill practices, rifle shooting, trekking, and parades, fostering resilience and teamwork among cadets. Regular camps, such as Annual Training Camps and other National Camps, provide our cadets with opportunities to hone survival skills and build camaraderie.

AU NCC cadets actively participate in national and state-level events like Republic Day Camps, Independence Day celebrations, Inter Directorate Sports Shooting Championships, Leadership campus and Combined Command Camps, showcasing their excellence and dedication to service. The cadets also engage in impactful social service activities, such as blood donation drives and tree plantation initiatives, reflecting their commitment to societal well-being.

Through NCC, students at AU are imbued with qualities such as leadership, self-discipline, and adaptability, crucial for both civilian and military life. Many cadets are inspired to pursue careers in the armed forces, guided by the mentorship and exposure provided by NCC.

With a history of high achievements and accolades in sports and cultural events, AU's NCC unit stands as a symbol of courage, national pride, and service, instilling in its cadets a sense of responsibility and devotion to the nation.

At AU, NCC is more than an extracurricular activity—it is a pathway to building character, confidence, and commitment to a brighter future for India.
